yesterday, drove two pitchers to the woods, von their thirteenth game on the 13th of the month, and their hits were exactly 13, a combination too strong for St. Louis to overcome, the final score being 9 to 4. Both teams began to hit the ball from the start, but the Browns stopped after four innings, while the Senators continued for seven, their 13 hits totaling 21 bases.

Pelty started the twirling for the Browns but he lasted only three innings. Then Harry Howell took up the running, but his stay was still shorter, but two rounds being enough for him. Southpaw Sievers then walked into the center of the diamond, and his reception was a warm one, but he got going after one inning, and held the Case Patten did the twirling for the Senators, and it required five innings for him to get properly warmed up. In the meantime the Browns were playing a merry tune with their bats, but exceptional fielding kept down the scoring, nine of their eleven hits being made in the first four innings. After that Patten had the opposing bats-men guessing, and they were lucky to get the ball out of the diamond.

The features of the game were the field-ing of Washington's infield, Cassidy, Mc-Cormick and Coughlin making many fast plays, while Jake Stahl took care of everyng that went toward first. The Browns fielding was marred by the poor work of Hill, at third, both his errors being costly.

In the batting line Jake Stahl was the bright particular star, as his two triples were beautiful drives and run scorers in each case. Close up to him were little Cas-sidy and Kittredge, the former getting three singles, while the latter had a double and two singles. Coughlin had a fine triple and a single, while McCormick's double also be-longed in the fancy class. Hemphill, Heidrick and Wallace were the leaders for the Browns with the stick, the little shortstop being the only one to get a drive for more

Heidrick scored the Browns' first run in the initial inning. This tally was gotten back by the Senators in the same inning on-Coughlin's single and Stahl's triple. Jake misunderstood instructions while turning third and continued on home to be an easy

In the second the Browns added another run to their credit, singles by Padden, Sugden and Pelty bringing about this result, a fast double play by Cassidy, McCormick and Stahl shutting off further proceedings.
In the third Patten was given quite a drubbing, two singles, a double and a sac-rifice adding two runs to St. Louis' score, their last tailying of the game. In this inning the Senators got two of these runs back, Patten leading off with a single and being chased home by Cough-lin's triple to left. Donovan went out, third to first, and Coughlin scored on the play. Hill being caught off his balance, which compelled him to play for the bat-

In the fourth the locals tied up the score base on balls to McCormick and Kittredge's nice dine double into left fifth and there was nothing more to it, as their opponents faded completely away. Donovan got a base on balls, and in trying to sacrifice Cassidy beat out Howell's throw to first. Stahl neatly sacrificed, moved Donovan and Cassidy along a base. O'Neill went out on a long fly to Heidrick and Donovan scored.

McCormick soaked the ball over Heidrick's head for a double, and Cassidy scored. Drill hit toward third, and was safe on Hill's error. Kittredge singled into right, sending McCormick over the plate. Two more tallies were added to the Senators' score in the sixth, and then they knocked off for the day in the run-scoring line. After Patten had gone out on a fly to Jones, Coughlin hit toward left. Hill gathered up the ball and threw it into the bleachers, "Scranton Bill" continuing around to the home plate. Donovan sin-gled, but was set back in trying to steal second on a good throw from Sugden to Wallace. Cassidy laid down another bunt toward third, and beat it out, and he easily romped home when Stahl tore off his sec-ond triple. Ciphers were hung up by both teams for the remainder of the game. Pat-

NO BASE BALL WAR.

American and National Leagues as Friendly as Can Be Expected.

Not content with a real war in the east papers are trying to provoke another base ball war between the American and National leagues, says the Chicago Tribune. In fact, if one believed all one read, such a war is already on, but has not been discovered as yet by the rival magnates. So far the only evidences produced are the natural elements of friction which must of necessity exist between organizations which touch each other at as many points as do the American and National leagues. The proofs exist in the fact that both leagues might be said of England, Germany and the United States. These nations are always more or less prepared for war and trying to be more so all the time. That is not proof positive they are going to fight each other this week or next year. It is merely a matter of political economy, and rather a preventive of war than otherwise. As a matter of fact, there has been less friction between the major leagues this year than last, and most of that has been caused by injudicious talk and indiscriminate quoting of such talk by newspapers The present rumors would not command fact that newspapers, more than any other one element, brought on the war of 1900 between the American and National leagues. But the men who weathered that war are not going to plunge into another, which can only be one of extermination. without greater cause than is in sight. It would be miraculous if the present national agreement, which was drafted under pressure and to fit conditions which existed two years ago, should turn out a perfect document satisfactory to everybody for all time. If it is not satisfactory to the majority of club owners in every particular today it can easily be changed or amended by that majority. It is true that a few club owners would like to fight again, because they see no other way to make money out of base ball, but the majority of the clubs in both leagues are prosperous, and that majority will rule base ball for awhile yet. But there is always a danger, which Garry Hermann, chairman of the national commission, warned his associates against in these words: "If you don't agree, don't try to fight it out at long range or through the newspapers. Get together in a room for your fight, and you will be surprised to find how near you are to agree-

The Sixth Presbyterian Church team administered a shutout to the Wilson Memorial team yesterday afternoon, on the Mount Pleasant grounds, defeating them by a score of 5 to 0. The Wilson team had no chance to win, as the Sixth team played in fine form, their fielding being brilliant, while the stick work came at the time when a hit counted. The Wilson team was handicapped by the absence of several of its winners, pitched a fine game, allowing but four hits, three of which were scratches, and the fourth a triple by Keefe in the ninth inning. Keefe pitched for the Wilson team, and allowed eight hits. The score would have been much closer but for several costly errors by the Wilson boys. Connors at short and Herbert on third for the Sixth team played a fine fielding game, the former accepting nine chances and the latter three, without an error. For the Sixth team Much played a good game at short, while Pennington on second also did good work. Garner's throw home from deep left field was a dandy, catching the runner within a foot of the plate and thus securing a shutout of the Wilson team. Three double plays were pulled off by the Sixth team, the Wilson team getting one. The score:

Vernon Sunday school teams, who are holding down last place, as in the games between the two leading teams. There was an unbroken circle of spectators surrounding the entire field, and they were well repaid for their visit, as the game proved to be a very interesting and close one, notwithstanding the rather loose fielding that was in vogue.

one, notwithstanding the rather loose fielding that was in vogue.

The Emerald Isle lads secured their total of six runs in bunches of twos, which they had made good at the completion of the fourth inning. At this stage the Chapel team had scored but half of this number, but they braced up and began to "really" play ball, and at the close of the eighth inning, through slow but sure stick work, had tied the score. Through a pretty double they managed to shut the Irish lads out in successive order in the ninth, and then ushered in the lucky tenth. Thomas, out in successive order in the ninth, and then ushered in the lucky tenth. Thomas, the Mt. Vernon twirler, was unable to handle the ball as was his wont yesterday, having allowed in all six bases on balls and five transportation orders, the latter through hitting the batsmen, and in the tenth inning he went to pieces entirely, for with the assistance of battery errors, poor fielding and timely hitting the Wesleyans nearly doubled their score, and with the continued good playing they had started in the fifth closed the tenth without allowing their Methodist opponents to add an additional run to their six.

Mathews pitched an excellent game for the winning team, and through his victory again allows the Mt. Vernonites to occupy the twelfth place.

St. Stephen's Trounced the Woodward & Lothrop Boys.

The Woodward & Lothrop and the St. Stephen's teams of the Capital City League, were the contenders yesterday, the latter having an easy win of it in six innings, the score being 17 to 5. The Woodward & Lothrop team was weak in the field and could not get hits with runners on bases. The St. Stephen's boys got their hits bunched with the errors and had no trouble getting runs over the plate. Score:

The game was the second of the schedule of the A. G. Spaiding Athletic League and resulted in a tie, each side having six runs to its credit when the game was called at the end of the ninth inning.

Although the fielding of both teams was somewhat ragged in the early part of the contest good pitching kept the score down. J. Orme of the Brightwoods carried off the batting honors of the day, making two long drives for two bases each, while Graeves of the Takomas made the only sensational fielding play of the game, when The managers of the two teams have decided to have the tie played off on the Brightwood field next Wednesday, July 20, that being an open date in the schedule

EASY FOR NORRIS PETERS.

Bureaus Fielded Poorly and Batted

Weak. The Bureau Athletic Club went out to the Norris Peters Company grounds yesterday afternoon and received one of the worst drubbings they have had this season at the hands of the latter club. They were outfielded and outbatted at every stage of the game, and had not Clark eased up a little on them in the last inning they would also have received a good coat of whitewash. The game started in well, and the first three men on each side were retired in one, two, three order, but the Norris Peters team started in to do things to Risten in the second inning, and scored in every inning thereafter except the fourth, making a total of thirteen hits for twentythree bases. The Bureau men were not so fortunate, as they succeeded in getting only seven hits, and they were so scattered that not a single man crossed the plate until the last inning, when two runs were made on three successive hits and a long fly to right field. Gates, who started in to catch for the Norris Peters team, was suf-fering from a lame finger, and in the fifth inning was replaced by Dougherty, who seems a capable man wherever he may be played. One man only tried to steal on him, and his throw to second was so quick and accurate that it discouraged any future attempts in this line. "Rube" Clark, who does the slab work for the Peters team is another man who brives a wall. J. & W. EISEMAN, 315 7th St. One Door D St.

INTERNATIONAL CRICKET. Americans Once More Serve Defeat to the Canadians.

For the twenty-third time since 1844 the Americans were victorious in their international cricket match with Canada, winning the contest at Haverford, Pa., yesterday by seven wickets. The remaining two Canadian wickets fell for a low cost, and the side was disposed of for a total of 172, while the American cricketers knocked off the 26 runs necessary to win the match with but three wick-Play was resumed yesterday morning shortly after 11 o'clock, with Ackland and Counsell at the bat and Patton and Graham in charge of the bowling. The rain which fell during the night made the wicket soft, and so the bowlers could get a good Counsell drove Patton to the boundary for four, and shortly afterward was stumped by Jordan, attempting to get to the pitch of one of Patton's slow ones. Pereira, the last man, did not last long, and when he was caught by White for five the side had been retired for 172 runs, just ten less than their first innings. Baber opened to Patton, who, after playing a couple of balls to the fielders, was caught by Plumptree for a duck egg. Foulkrod was second man, but he succumbed to Lucas before he reached dou-bles, while Cregar was clean bowled by Baber for nine White and Jordan, the two Germantown men, then became associated, and managed to knock off the runs, the former scoring the winning run off Baber.

BRIGHTON RACES.

Five Favorites Winning Made the Bet-The Jamaica stakes, at six furlongs, run at Brighton yesterday, resulted in a dead heat between W. M. Scheftel's Major Pelham and C. F. Hill's Gay Boy in the fast time of 1.12 2-5. There was no run-off, and all winning bets were halved. Major Pelham, with Hildebrand up, ruled favorite at threes, with Ascension second in favor at 16 to 5. It was an open betting affair, at that, as Divination, Ingold, Gay Boy and the Holland pair, John F. and Counterpoise, were all well supported.

Tim Payne showed in front first, but soon dropped back, and at the head of the stretch Major Pelham had secured a commanding lead. Then Burns began to move up from the middle of the bunch with Gay Boy, and at the last furlong he put the St. Saviour horse under the whip. Major Pelham was tiring rapidly at that stage, and Hildebrand went to the bat, too. It was only in the last jump that Gay Boy got up in time to divide the honors. Ingold was third four lengths are will with Counterthird, four lengths away!" with Counter-poise and Ascension next, five lengths or

He gave scale weight to all but Witchcraft, and, after Gold Saint and Sweet Alice had killed each other off with pacemaking for three-quarters of a mile, went to the front and won by three lengths in 1.46 2-5. Lord Badge, 5 to 1, took the place by three parts of a length from Spring, 8 to 1, who was a head before Sonoma Belle. Workman, 2 to 1 favorite, with Hilde-brand up, won the third race, for two-year-olds, at five and a half furlongs, by half a length from Tramotor, 3 to 1, second choice, after a long, hard drive through the stretch, Burns subjecting the latter to merciless punishment. Gray Lad, 5 to 1, was third, five lengths away. The time was 107 was 1.07.

A. Featherstone has not won many races this year, but his colors were seen in front in the first race, for maiden three-year-olds, when Shipshape, a 40 to 1 shot, romped home two lengths before Tyron, 7 to 2 favorite, with Tide, 20 to 1, a length behind. Lady Prudence, 14 to 5 favorite, burned up a lot of solid backing by finishing far back in the ruck. The race was run in 1.15.

RAIN STOPS AUTO CLIMBS.

Harkness' Dangerous Ride in Breaking Mt. Washington Record.

Rain yesterday prevented any more atempts at breaking the records for climbing Mount Washington by the automobiles that have been racing there this week, and the contests are now practically ended. Harry L. Harkness, whose sixty-horse power Mercedes went up the mountain in 24.37 3-5 Tuesday, making a new record, said that he would never try to perform the feat again. Harkness' driver, who accompanied him on his record-breaking ascent, said that twice the car went so near the edge of the road that it knocked off the big stones placed there to keep carriages from falling down the mountain side. When Mr. Hark-ness was asked about this he said that the pace was so swift that all he could do was keep his eyes ahead and the front wheels straight. He had no time to watch what went on at the side or behind him, he said. He wasn't able to shut off power at dangerous places, and had to throw off the gear and let the engine race. The roads, he declared, were altogether too rough and risky for a thirty-mile gait.

In the seventh inning Heidrick forced out Jones at second and in trying for a double play Cassidy threw wild to first. homers. Arndt, who has hit well for Louisville, has hit for .328, McCreery for .312, O'Brien, with the Boston Americans last season, for .304, Maloney for .300, Magoon for .287, Swander for .261.

Thirteen or fourteen years ago John Clarkson and Charlie Ganzel were the banner battery of the Boston Nationals. Today Clarkson's brother Walter is pitching for the Highlanders and Ganzel's brother, Long John, is covering first base for them.

Tom Dougherty of the Milwaukees is called the "Iron Man" of the American Association. He is more than likely to be found on Comiskey's charmstring in the draft.

Gibson's game was the beginning of the New York downfall. He pitches a great deal like Charley Nichols, the old Boston National League man. In fact, he has attitudes and ways of throwing the ball which bring Nichols so strongly to memory that one almost wonders for a moment whether it is not he who is serving up curves for the Boston American League outfit.—New York Telegram.

Pitcher Coloumbe of the Norwich University team is one of the coming college pitchers. He is a strapping fellow, and is known as the original "peanut man," subsisting wholly on peanuts. As a pitcher he is swift, has all the curves, and uses great headwork in the box. He will graduate with the class of 1905, when he will be available for diamond work. Other pitchers who have previously been identified with the Norwich team are Doheny, formerly of the Pittsburgs; Pond, formerly of the Baltimores; Ranney, who afterward became a star catcher; Gokey, now of the Nashuas, and Wilder, formerly of the Worcesters.—Boston Herald.
